Health Workforce Queensland assists General Practitioners (including GP Locums), Allied Health and Nursing Professionals and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Workers to find their dream job in remote and rural Queensland.

Remote and rural Queensland communities provide a unique opportunity to further your health career. Our Health Workforce Solutions team provide a personal recruitment approach when assisting you with your next career move in rural Queensland.

Not only will we help you find your dream job in rural Queensland, we'll support you throughout the process and after making the move.

Here's how we can support you to work in rural Queensland*:

- + Match your qualifications, skills and experience to practices and locations for successful placements.
- + Provide relocation incentive packages to assist with your move and help you settle in.
- + Have a designated Regional Coordinator to assist with your transition.
- + Providing advice and guidance regarding relevant registration pathways and/or membership requirements of relevant professional associations.
- + Provide financial support through the Health Workforce Scholarship Program for further career upskilling. Eligibility criteria applies.
